Archery From Canoes On The AuSable, Feature Story

"Back to the Indians" is the title of a Ford Times story in the September issue by Nancy Kennedy with four color photos by John P. Breeden.

The story tells of nine car caravan of Ford Archery Club members who traveled up this way in August last year for a bow and arrow shooting tournament from canoes while traveling down the AuSable River.

The idea of a canoe born archery tournament was thought up by the Ford Archery Club President Jack Ketchman when he studied an old print showing Indians shooting at the shore with bows from canoes on a lake.

Twenty-five targets were set up along the river bank shaped as deer, bear, ducks and frogs. The Conservation Depart. had given their permission for the shoot and warning signs had been set up along the river. Twenty-five men and a lone woman shot the course which took about 4 hours to complete. With four bowmen in a canoe with one doubling as a paddler, they started running the course at ten minute intervals. As the targets were spotted each bowman loosed his arrows at the target and then the canoe was beached to collect arrows and count score. Points were taken away for lost arrows and if a target was spotted too late, there could be no return to it for shooting. Jim McGuire turned in the best score, twenty-one hits in twenty-five chances. Three canoes turned over, a few arrows and one boat was lost, but everyone was thoroughly sold on the canoe shoot as a permanent archery activity.

Other groups are planning this same type of shoot as during the remainder of this month and early in October should see the AuSable and Manistee Rivers near Grayling being used by the target shooting bowmen limbering up for this fall's deer season.

Pass 2 Bills Favorable To Hunting Archers

The Michigan Legislature in session this year passed two bills that were very favorable to the hunting archer, the game seeker with bow and arrow.

Eight new counties have been added to the list of those open to deer either sex: Arenac, Gladwin, Kalkaska, Marquette, Missaukee, Ogemaw, Osceola and Presque Isle. Practically all of the best deer country in the state is now open to deer hunting for either sex with bow and arrow. This now leaves but nine counties and parts of two others that are closed to the taking of does by archery hunting.

The bow and arrow has also been made a legal weapon for spearing of all fish that can be taken by spear, but the law will not take effect until 90 days after the Legislature adjourns (June 29). Archers will, therefore, not be able to take advantage of this law until the winter spearing season beginning January 1.

The Fall Outing is open to the public and everyone is invited. Prizes have been rounded up for golf. There will also be prizes for bridge and canasta which will take place at the club house during the afternoon. The outing will get underway about 2 P. M. It will windup with a potluck dinner.

Among the prizes that will be awarded are silver cups, dozen golf balls, golf hat and gloves, sun glasses, sport shirt, golf hose, cut links, leather socks, thermos jug and many others too numerous to mention.

Another feature of the afternoon will be the presentation of the 1951 champion of the club after the match play finishes and the presentation of an award to him emblematic of the championship.

Three relay stations will be set up on the radio network, one near Wakeley Bridge, at Mio and at Oscoda. The three mobile stations will feed reports to the three relay stations thus giving information on the race to Mio and Oscoda as well as Grayling.

WATCH OUT FOR THE SCHOOL KIDS

"How safe is my child?" The parents of children who are to begin school for the first time this month find this question their biggest worry. Grayling Police said today.

It is with the beginning of school, he said, "that the child most often breaks away from his parents' round-the-clock supervision for the first time and is exposed to the dangers of the street."

That the parents are justified in their fears is borne out by National Safety Council figures, quoted by Police, which show that throughout the country more than 1,400 children 5 through 14 years old were killed by motor vehicles as pedestrians and bicyclists in 1950.

Since September—and the beginning of school—is a crucial month to the safety of youngsters, it has been selected for the State Safety Commission's month-long program of traffic safety education concerned with protecting children. The State Safety Commission's September slogan "Watch Out For Kids" is directed at the motorist, upon whose shoulders most of the responsibility for child safety rests.

Other phases of the program, however Police said, will emphasize the child's own responsibility in traffic, the parents' necessity for wise safety education at home and ways in which schools can increase their contribution to the students' safety. The Police Department has been assured of the full cooperation of Mr. Frank Bond, Superintendent of Schools. "Safety," Police said, is not a subject that can arbitrarily begin with the child's first day in school and end on the completion of his formal education. The child's education along these lines should begin as soon as he can comprehend simple instructions and should continue the rest of his life. The State Safety Commission's emphasis on child safety this month is part of a nation-wide program being conducted in cooperation with the National Safety Council's Operation Safety plan and coordinated locally by the Grayling Police Department.

Is It Inevitable?

The cheating scandal at West Point was simply the latest in a series of shocking developments within and without the government. In the Academy case, some of accused cadets said that such practices had been going on for a considerable period of time, and that men had been graduated and commissioned who had been guilty of them. It is noteworthy that most of the members of West Point's big-time football team were involved. West Point has extremely high academic standards, and large numbers of cadets who are unable to meet them are dropped each year. The football players apparently, had to devote so much of their time and energy to practicing and traveling that they couldn't properly cope with their studies. So the system of cribbing was developed and, it seems, rather widely accepted within the corps, despite the fact that it was a clear and flagrant violation of an honor code which has existed since the school was founded during the Monroe administration.

Prior to this, the nation was treated to the revelations concerning the bribing of key players on some leading college basketball teams by professional gamblers. The players concerned either deliberately threw games, or saw to it that the winning margin was restricted to a certain number of points. The gamblers thus had a sure thing and cleaned up.

We have recently witnessed the dramatic Kefauver investigation of organized gambling. It brought to light an amazing amount of state and municipal official corruption. In instance after instance, police chiefs, sheriffs and other influential officials worked hand in hand with the gamblers and received handsome payments for their services.

This must stop in America at once. Each of us as citizens must demand its halt before its cancerous growth ruins our way of life. It cannot, however, be corrected by a "good government" group or any one person.

He has laid the foundation for a beautiful home on the southwest shore of Portage and his poultry, small fruits, nursery stock and garden has every promise of success.

TRAIL BLAZER - with plenty on the ball

How long since you lifted the hood of a car, and took a good look at what's beneath?

We like to have folks do that with a Buick.

You'll find that broad bonnet isn't put there for show. It's packed with horsepower—high, wide and handsome—more horsepower than normal drivers will ever use in full.

And—if you're up to date on modern features—you'll find that this bonnet is packed with these too.

Do you know, for example, that every new engine introduced or previewed in recent years is built on the valve-in-head principle?

Score one for Buick. No Buick engine has ever been built in any other way.

Do you know what it takes to make full use of high compression? A valve-in-head engine!

Score two: Buick has been stepping up compression ratios for years.

But Buick has blazed one trail which other engines still haven't followed—don't ask us why.

Every Buick has a Fireball Engine which, as we've said before, is like having a string of comets by the tail.

Fact is, in every flame-packed cylinder there is a comet—rolled into a swirling ball by a special turbo-top piston—touched off by a flashing spark every 5 inches you travel in a Buick.

That's why we're proud to show folks that Buicks have a Fireball Engine—and prouder still to have them take one of these thrilling performers out on the road.

Want to try it? Come in and see us soon.

A Day Worth Waiting For!

Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

There are but few times in a man's life when he gets a thrill that matches the one he gets when he takes delivery of his first Cadillac.

We've watched it happen many, many times—and it never ceases to be a heart-warming experience.

You see—a man isn't simply buying a motor car when he gets his first Cadillac. He is marking a milestone in his life.

For years, he has been saying to himself that, some day, he would step up to a Cadillac.

All this time, he has seen it as something he wanted to do for his family... and as a sort of personal reward for the effort and planning that have gone into his own work.

And when you watch him slide over behind the wheel

—well, it's a thrill just to be there. He's a proud and happy man as he turns the key in the ignition switch—and hears the deep-throated answer of the powerful engine.

If you are one who has been looking forward to a Cadillac—we think you would be well advised to come in and place your order now.

There's a little delay these days before a Cadillac can be delivered—and obviously, the sooner you place your order, the sooner you'll get your car.

And when the great day comes, you'll know at once that it was well worth waiting for—because all the things you've heard about a Cadillac are doubly true.

It isn't just a motor car. It's a wonderful contribution to a wonderful way of life!
